

Hail Suppression Plan Gets The Nod From East Voters

Those eligible to vote in the hail suppression plebiscite held in the Mountain View and Kneehill municipalities on Tuesday, were not too great in number. In our immediate area there was a difference of opinion between east and west. The latter said "no" the former want to try it again. In the Kneehill area the vote was "yes" all the way.

The contract will be for one year only and is financed by a special 10 cent per acre tax.

Residents of the Kneehill district were 81 percent in favor of the continuance and Mountain View voted approximately 68 percent in favor in the eastern area.

Farmers in the Rocky View Municipality, west, north and east of Calgary, will vote on the contract on January 9th. Whether the City of Calgary renews its contract will be up to city council to decide.

The hail suppression company operated in 1958 in the Didsbury-Three Hills area on a semi-official scale. Then the provincial government authorized any municipality to enter into a contract for it, to be financed by the special tax, provided the taxpayers approved it annually in a plebiscite.

Here are the results by poll; the east said "yes", the west said "no".

Yes, It Happened Here . . .

A short-lived hail storm disrupted traffic in this district on New Year's Eve but the wee pellets did not damage things to any great extent. However the high winds behind them, which lasted for about 48 hours, made things mighty miserable for any who ventured beyond their own portals. We are pleased to report that no account of a serious accident has come to our ears despite the very treacherous driving conditions. A good way to start the New Year; may the trend continue throughout the year.

Sometimes It Helps . . .

Many moons ago we suggested in this column that a bicycle rack be placed in the vicinity of the post office, a spot that sees a lotta two-wheeled traffic. We're pleased to see one spotted there now; instead of laying on the sidewalk as before, the bikes can enjoy a berth of their own. Also mentioned here at one time was the need for a snow-clearing detail on the "hard-top" when the need arose. We were pleased to see such an operation taking place last weekend. We like to think that sometimes our suggestions do get across to the powers-that-be and some action is taken. They tell us you can't win every round but sometime we win one it's a forward step for "our town."

Sports Hold The Spotlight . . .

Hockey and curling will reign supreme for the sports-minded for the next several weeks. The Ramblers hockey club are enjoying a fair amount of success so far in the new season but will have to improve if they intend to retain possession of the championship trophy they won last year. Next week the annual men's bonspiel will get underway, the first rocks to be thrown Monday morning. Should the weather remain as chilly as it is at the time of writing winter sport fans should enjoy a banner season.

THE Homemaker

DEAR FRIENDS,
The holidays are over and it's back to "comparatively" normal living for all of us.

Did Santa bring you that fur coat or jacket that you've been wishing for so many years? To those of you who do own a fur coat here are a few suggestions which will add to both its life and beauty:

FUR FACTS

— Heat makes fur brittle. Never dry a damp fur on a radiator or hang in the sun.

— Rain and snow won't hurt a fur coat, but poor drying will.
When your furs become damp, shake them thoroughly and hang them up in a cool place, where they are not pressed against other objects. Never brush a wet fur.

— Hang coats or jackets on sturdy hangers never on hooks. Give them enough room so they are not crushed by other garments.

— Furs should be shaken often,
and occasionally given a gentle brushing in the direction of the nap.

— Friction will, in time, rub off any fur. Try to avoid localized rubbing, as in carrying pocketbooks or bundles.

— Rips can be minimized by such habits as unbuttoning the coat while you sit and keeping hands generally out of pockets.
Small rips become large easily, and expensive to repair. Have any rips repaired at once.

— Annual cleaning by the "drumsawdust" method is desirable.
"Glazing", a process which restores luster to dull looking furs by the addition of some oil, should be done as needed, up to several times a year if the coat is worn a good deal. Glazing not only improves appearance, but it helps keep fur from becoming brittle.

— Since warmth is bad for furs, cold storage is recommended during the months when the coat is not being worn. — don't try to mothproof a fur with chemicals.

— The cost of major repairs and restyling is apt to run high. When the estimate for an alteration job starts to run to about 25% of the original price of the garment, you should consider carefully whether a better course would not be conversion of the coat to jacket, stole, or cape, or its use as a lining for a cloth coat.

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD FULTCHER
District Agriculturist

Proper egg care has a direct effect on the hatching egg business.
It is important to have sound eggs of uniform size and shape with high interior quality to have successful hatchlings. In handling eggs the following rules should be followed:

1. Gather eggs frequently - at least four times a day and preferably six times a day. Frequent collections are especially important in warm or cold days, as chick embryos will start to develop at 68 degrees F. and freezing will take place at a temperature of 38 degrees F.
2. Cool eggs rapidly - the holding temperature for hatching eggs should range from 50 degrees F. to 55 degrees F. with a humidity of 70 to 80%. Eggs are placed in pre-cooled containers immediately after gathering.
3. Clean eggs - do not wash hatching eggs. Some flecks of dirt can be removed with sandpaper, steel wool or emery cloth.
4. Proper packing - pack eggs large end up. Loose air cells and stuck yolks can occur when eggs are packed with the small ends up.
Such eggs do not hatch properly.
5. Move eggs quickly - prolonged cold storage reduces hatchability.
Never hold eggs over 10 days. Ship or have eggs picked up by buyers once or twice a week for best results.

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Christmas of 1958 is now in the past and all of us look forward to the New Year. We can make 1959 a year of blessing and helpfulness and consideration of others. We can make it a time of devotion to the Heavenly Father and the cause of the Christian Faith, if we will.

Christmas Day was spent variously by students and faculty of the college. All the students were at home with friends during the day and stayed during most of the holiday season.

President and Mrs. Taylor and family joined in the Taylor reunion in the Lancaster home in Calgary.
Mrs. M. A. Finlay of Edmonton was a guest among them and remained on campus for a number of days.

Mrs. Florence Finlay, dean of women, and Rev. and Mrs. Auburn Witt and Cameron spent the vacation days with the Youngs in Edmonton, a sister of Mrs. Witt. The Witts will be returning to Africa next spring and are using all the days of holiday to visit and renew acquaintances as their duties in the college prohibit that at other times.

Mrs. Suder and Lois, Miss Gladys Eby and the Arthur Eby family were dinner guests in the traditional Danish Christmas Eve celebration in the fra Stauffer home. It was a most enjoyable occasion, particularly so because Mr. and Mrs.
Don Suder of Montreal were home
at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eby left for California on Christmas day. They will be visiting two brothers there, Ed and Alvin Eby.

Then there was Christmas Day at Arthur Eby's with the Stauffers, Mrs. Dedick and family of Winfield, the Clarence Stauffers, the Suder family and Miss Gladys Eby, met together to do justice to a huge turkey, with all the trimmings.

Mrs. Suder and her family were guests at the Walter Reimer home on Friday evening. This was in honor of Earl, who was home on vacation.

President Taylor and family were guests in the Lynn Hunsperger home on Friday evening.

LIGHT YOUR WAY ...

... WITH BIBLE STUDY

After all, there are only two religions in the world. God's and man's. Man's religion, no matter what name it may travel under, is always based on self-righteousness.
God's religion, the only religion the Bible knows, is based on Jesus' blood and righteousness. Man's religion says: First you must do, then you shall live. God's religion says:
First, you must live, by grace through faith in Christ, then you shall do. Man's religion says: You are saved by character. God's religion says: You are saved by grace.

This, then, is the central teaching of the Bible. All who believe in Jesus Christ are justified before God, not by works, but by grace, for Christ's sake, through faith.
It was customary in olden times to throw a debtor into prison. If another paid his bills, he would be released. The merit of another was counted as though it were his own.
Jesus paid our debt of sin. We have been forgiven.

The lamb was most frequently used in days past, in sacrifices.
The priest laid his hand upon this creature offered for sin, and while the sin was confessed, he laid his hand over the head of the sacrifice, the sin was typically transferred to the victim, which was therefore called sin or guilt. Thus God laid upon His Son the iniquities of us all. He became Sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him.

Now God sees Christ and is satisfied; the sinner sees Christ and is satisfied. "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world."

Yes, It Happened Here . . .

A short-lived hail storm disrupted traffic in this district on New Year's Eve but the wee pellets did not damage things to any great extent. However the high winds behind them, which lasted for about 48 hours, made things mighty miserable for any who ventured beyond their own portals. We are pleased to report that no account of a serious accident has come to our ears despite the very treacherous driving conditions. A good way to start the New Year; may the trend continue throughout the year.

Sometimes It Helps . . .

Many moons ago we suggested in this column that a bicycle rack be placed in the vicinity of the post office, a spot that sees a lotta two-wheeled traffic. We're pleased to see one spotted there now. Instead of laying on the sidewalk as before, the bikes can enjoy a berth of their own. Also mentioned here at one time was the need for a snow-clearing detail on the "hard-top" when the need arose. We were pleased to see such an operation taking place last weekend. We like to think that sometimes our suggestions do get across to the powers-that-be and some action is taken. They tell us you can't win every round but sometime we win one it's a forward step for "our town."

Sports Hold The Spotlight . . .

Hockey and curling will reign supreme for the sports-minded for the next several weeks. The Ramblers hockey club are enjoying a fair amount of success so far in the new season but will have to improve if they intend to retain possession of the championship trophy they won last year. Next week the annual men's bonspiel will get underway, the first rocks to be thrown Monday morning. Should the weather remain as chilly as it is at the time of writing winter sport fans should enjoy a banner season.

Another Famous Quote . . .

"The art of winning in business is in working hard — not taking things too seriously."

Jeweller and

DEAR FRIENDS,
The holidays are over and it's
back to "comparatively" normal

coat or jacket that you've been
wishing for so many years? To those of you who do own a fur
coat here are a few suggestions which will add to both its life and
beauty:

— Heat makes fur brittle. Never
dry a damp fur on a radiator or
hang in the sun.

— Rain and snow won't hurt a fur coat, but poor drying will.
When your furs become damp,
objects. Never brush a wet fur.

crushed by other garments.

— Furs should be shaken often,
and occasionally given a gentle
nap.

— Friction will, in time, rub off
any fur. Try to avoid localized
rubbing, as in carrying pocketbooks
or bundles.

such habits as unbuckling the coat while you sit and keeping
hands generally out of pockets.
Small rips become large easily, and expensive to repair. Have any rips repaired at once.

sawdust" method is desirable.
"Glazing", a process which restores lustre to dull looking furs by the addition of some oil, should be
done as needed, up to several times
a year if the coat is worn a good
deal. Glazing not only improves
from becoming brittle.

— Since warmth is bad for furs, cold storage is recommended during the winter months.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

past and all of us look forward to the New Year. We can make 1959
a year of blessing and helpfulness
can make it a time of devotion to
the Heavenly Father and the cause of the Christian Faith, if we will.

Christmas Day was spent vari-
ously by students and faculty of
at home with friends during the
day and stayed during most of the holiday season.

President and Mrs. Taylor and
family joined in the Taylor reunion
in the Lancaster home in Calgary.
Mrs. M. A. Pinay of Edmonton was a guest among them and remained
on campus for a number of days.

Mrs. Florence Pinay, dean of women, and Rev. and Mrs. Auburn Witt and Cameron spent the vacation days with the Young's in Edmonton, a sister of Mrs. Witt. The Witt's will be returning to Africa
next spring and are using all the
acquaintances as their duties in the college prohibit that at other times.

Mrs. Suder and Lois, Miss Gladys Boy and the Arthur and family were dinner guests in the traditional Danish Christmas Eve celebration in the Ira Stauffer home. It was a most enjoyable occasion, particularly so because Mr. and Mrs.
Don Suder of Montreal were home
at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eby left for California on Christmas day. They will be visiting two brothers there,
Ed and Alvin Eby.

Then there was Christmas Day at Arthur Eby's when the Stauffer, Mrs. Eby's and family of Winfield, the Clarence Stauffer,
the Suder family and Miss Gladys Eby met together to do justice to
a huge turkey, with all the trimmings.

Mrs. Suder and her family were guests at the Walter Reimer home
on Friday evening. This was in
vacation.

President Taylor and family were
guests in the Lynn Hunsperger
home on Friday evening.

After all, there are only two reli-
man's. Man's religion, no matter what name it may travel under, is
always based on self-righteousness.
God's religion, the only religion the Bible knows, is based on Jesus' blood and righteousness. Man's religion says: First you must do, then you shall live. God's religion says:
First, you must live, by grace
through faith in Christ, then you
shall do. Man's religion says: You
are saved by character. God's religion says: You are saved by grace.

This, then, is the central teaching
of the Bible. All who believe in Jesus Christ are justified before
God, not by works, but by grace,
for Christ's sake, through faith.

It was customary in olden times
to throw a debtor into prison. If
another paid his bills, he would be
counted as though it were his own.
Jesus paid our debt of sin. We have forgiveness.

The lamb was most frequently
used in days past in sacrifices.
The priest laid his hand upon this
creature offered for sin, and while the sinner confessed his iniquity over the head of the sacrifice, the sin was typically transferred to the victim, which was therefore called sin or guilt. Thus God laid upon
His Son the iniquities of us all. He became Sin for us, that we might
be made the righteousness of God
in Him.

Now God sees Christ and is satisfied; the sinner sees Christ and is
satisfied. "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of
the world."
